Jake What are you reading, Libby?

Libby It's an email from my pen pal. Her name's Karima and she lives in the Arctic.

Jake The Arctic! Wow. Her life's very different from ours, then.

Libby Yes, very different. She lives in Barrow, Alaska. It is the most northern city on the continent of America.

Jake What does she say in the email?

Libby She goes to school by snow mobile! Her mom drives it and Karima sits on the back.

Jake By snow mobile! Sounds really fun.

Libby And listen to this... We also have other visitors to our school: reindeers and polar bears try to come into school. Polar bears are beautiful, but dangerous. What wild animals do you have in your country?

Jake We don't have polar bears or reindeer.

Libby On the weekend, there are usually dog sled races in my village. We have five dogs and my father drives them. It's really exciting. We also tell stories, sing songs, and dance with drums.

Jake That's really interesting. I want to go to the Arctic one day.

2 My name's Simon. We saw lots of different animals on our school trip. My favorites were the monkeys and the lions. There were lots of snakes, but I didn't really like them. I hope we can go back soon!

3 I'm Lisa. We went to the beach and spent a lot of time on a big boat. We went to some islands and the boat went around them. Afterwards we looked at rock pools and all the different plants and animals that live in them. It was really fun on the boat. That was definitely my favorite part of the day.

4 I'm Max. On our trip, we learned about where our food comes from. We saw animals that give us milk, like cows and goats. My favorite part was a long walk through fields which were growing different kinds of food.

Libby Wrong. Listen to this. In 2011, scientists found the fossils of 20 whales in the desert in Chile.

Jake But a desert is a very, very dry place. That's impossible!

Libby It's true. The fossils are about seven million years old and very big.

Jake How big are they?

Libby Some are the size of a bus.

Jake In the desert? Why were there whales in the desert?

The boy who cried wolf

- Once there was a boy who looked after sheep everyday up in the mountains. Nothing ever happened and he was very bored.
- One day he ran down the mountain to the market in the nearby village and shouted, "Help! Help! Wolf, wolf! A wolf is going to eat the sheep!"
- The people ran up the mountain to help the boy. But there was no wolf.
"It's a joke! There isn't really a wolf," said the boy, laughing.

- The people from the village were very angry with the boy. They didn't laugh at his joke.
- The next day, a wolf really did come to the mountains. The boy was very scared, so he ran to the village.
- Again he shouted "Help! Help! Wolf, wolf! A wolf is going to eat the sheep!"
But this time no one helped the boy. No one believed him. "There isn't really a wolf," they said, laughing. And then the wolf ate all the boy's sheep.

We asked four more children, "What will school be like in 200 years?"

- In 200 years, there will be too many people on Earth so I think we will have big cities in space. People will live in space stations. Children will also go to school on the space stations. There will be special classrooms for learning more about their new life in space.
- I think that children won't have to go to school in 200 years. The children will study at home using very clever computers. They will have more time for sports, being outside and doing other things because they won't have to travel to their schools.
- I don't think things will change very much. I think children will still go to normal schools and learn from their teachers. The only difference is that all children will have their own computers in the classroom. There'll be a lot more machines to help us learn.
- Maybe children will have robots to help them with their schoolwork and tell them when to get up and go to bed. The robots will be like a best friend for the children because they will talk to them and help with any problems.

Libby What country is it about?

Jake Any country.

Libby That's easy. For the USA, it can be about the Gold Rush.

Jake I know about that. We learned about it at school. That's when they panned for gold in the rivers.

Libby That's a nice project for you.

Libby Listen. They put water from the river and sand and stones into the pan. Then they shook the pan. The gold went to the bottom of the pan. Then the prospector could find it.

Libby And why did the gold go to the bottom of the pan?

Jake That's easy. It's because gold is heavier than sand or stones.

Libby Yes, but it wasn't easy for the prospectors. Looking for gold was very hard work. They lived in tents and cooked on fires. Life was very hard, and many became sick.

Libby Good luck with your project, Jake.

Imagine you have three wishes. What are they?

1 My name's Lucas. My first wish is for an MP3 player. I love music and I don't have one. My second wish is for a baby brother. I have three sisters and I really want a brother one day. Maybe this wish will come true! And my third wish is ... to not have any more earthquakes in the world. Earthquakes are scary and dangerous.

2 I'm Rosy. Three wishes! That's great. Wish number 1. My grandma is ill and I want her to get better soon. Wish number 2 is for all animals to be safe and no animals to become extinct. And my final wish? I'd really like a camcorder. I want to make movies of my vacations.

3 I'm Akram. This is difficult because I want so many things. My first wish is to go to England one day to visit my pen pal. I've never been to England so it would be really exciting. My second wish is for nobody in the world to be hungry. I want everyone to have enough food. And my last wish is easy. My last wish is to have three more wishes!
